Need help? We're here.

Are you in immediate danger?

Call 000 if you need help right now. If you think someone may be monitoring your device, exit from this document and website, delete it from your browser history and visit this website and document from a computer, tablet or smartphone that isn't being monitored.

Your safety is our priority and commitment

The purpose of this policy is to provide you with information on how we can help support you if you are impacted by domestic and family violence. At Telstra, we want to build a connected future where everyone can be safe, especially those in vulnerable circumstances.

Domestic and family violence is the use of violent, threatening, coercive or controlling behaviours by an individual against a family member(s), or someone with whom they have, or have had an intimate relationship with, including carers, and can happen to anyone. Telecommunication is a huge part of our lives, so we want to help to make sure you can always be connected when you need to be.

How we can help

If you're experiencing or have just left a domestic and family violence situation, there are ways we can help you to stay safely connected. Our contact centre team is trained to identify affected customers and make a referral to our SAFE team for further help.

Our specially trained SAFE team can help with protecting your privacy and security. You can contact the SAFE team on 1800 452 566 between 8am and 6pm, Monday to Friday. Alternatively, if you'd like a call from the SAFE team, please complete this form.

Our Specialised Team

Our contact centre team members and SAFE team are trained to be aware of and understand the nature and consequences of domestic and family violence and our policy. Our team will work with you in a respectful and appropriate way, will check with you about how you want to proceed and will not ask for proof of your situation before providing assistance.

Your information is safe

If you let us know that you are affected by domestic and family violence, we won't disclose anything you tell us to another person. We have a secure process, designed to ensure you do not need to explain your situation to us each time you contact us. We will be guided by the information you provide to us and provide you with assistance to support your safety.

If you have a preferred way for us to contact you, let us know and we will use that method to contact you. If that is not possible for us, we will tell you about other ways we can contact you in a safe way. We are committed to protecting your privacy, keeping your information and ensuring the security of your data in accordance with The Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles.

For more information on how we collect use, store and disclose personal information, visit <https://www.telstra.com.au/privacy>.

What if I am having trouble paying my bill?

We understand that your situation may make it hard for you to pay your bill. Let us know if this is the case so that we can look at how we can help you. We will provide financial hardship assistance where possible and provide you with a tailored response.

You can find a copy of the Hardship Policy here: Telstra-Financial-Hardship-Policy.

Before we take any debt recovery action against you, we will consider the impact of that action on you and whether someone else might be responsible for your outstanding bills and usage.
