

CUSTOMER SERVICE ADVICE FROM TELSTRA

Natural Disaster events impact service in Peninsula, Gulf Country, Northern Goldfields, Upper Flinders, Central West, North West and Channel Country of Queensland

Telstra is working to manage the significant impact to Telstra services that has occurred as a result of a Natural Disaster in the Peninsula, Gulf Country, Northern Goldfields and Upper Flinders, Central West, North West and Channel Country regions of Queensland on or about Sunday 29 January 2012.

Due to the effect of damage to the Telstra telecommunications network by the continual monsoonal rainfall, there has been a significant increase in the number of Telstra services being reported as faulty. As a result, there has been some disruption to service and delays to normal installation and repair activities and access to some sites may be restricted due to the natural disaster declaration.

Telstra apologises to any affected customers.

Information as to the nature of the Natural Disaster event can be sourced from the Bureau of Meteorology (BOM) and Minister for Police, Corrective Services and Emergency Services; Queensland. Major flooding has occurred in some parts of the aforementioned districts and flood warnings continue to be issued in other areas; all of which are widely reported in the news media of these events since Sunday 29 January 2012.

Telstra has identified that the effect of these circumstances may apply to approximately 450 services. Some of these services may not be installed or repaired within Telstra's standard time frames. The number of possibly affected services may increase or decrease as Telstra assesses the full effect of the extreme weather conditions. Based on current information, the resumption date of Telstra's normal service operations is expected to be 5 March 2012. This date is indicative only, however, and may be subject to change once the full impact of the extreme weather conditions has been assessed. Telstra regrets any inconvenience caused to customers and thanks them for their patience while this work is being undertaken.
