2 Liberate Unified and Liberate Mobile

What is Liberate Unified?

- 2.1 Liberate Unified is a fixed-to-mobile convergence solution, extending UC & PABX features and functionality of your Telstra IP Telephony (TIPT) or SIP Connect service natively to your mobile device.
- 2.2 There are two types of Liberate Unified service available:
 - (a) Liberate Unified (TIPT), available with Telstra IP Telephony (TIPT); and

- (b) Liberate Unified (SIP Connect), available with Telstra SIP Connect.

What is Liberate Mobile?

- 2.3 Liberate Mobile service allows you to make and receive voice telephone calls using our underlying fixed access networks from the mobile device. Liberate Mobile is an alternative fixed-to-mobile convergence solution that establishes a new Unified Communications (UC) service to provide UC features and functionality for use on your native mobile device without requiring another underlying UC service.

Eligibility

- 2.4 To take up Liberate Unified (TIPT), you must:
 - (a) have or take up a compatible Telstra Mobile Service; and
 - (b) have or take up a Telstra IP Telephony (TIPT) service with a Standard or Executive feature package.
- 2.5 To take up Liberate Unified (SIP Connect), you must:
 - (a) have or take up a compatible Telstra Mobile Service; and
 - (b) have an existing SIP Connect Business Line or Business Trunk pack.
- 2.6 To take up Liberate Mobile, you must have or take up a compatible Telstra Mobile Service.
- 2.7 Liberate services are a unique pairing between a fixed line number (FNN) and a mobile service (MSISDN). Each individual service can only have one Liberate service applied concurrently. Liberate is not compatible with an eSIM, other pairing service (for example Telstra One Number), or Cloud Communications Recording unless we agree otherwise.
- 2.8 Your Underlying Fixed Service is the Telstra IP Telephony (TIPT) or Telstra SIP Connect fixed line service to which you apply your Liberate Unified service. The charges and terms for your Underlying Fixed Service are separate from and in addition to the charges and terms for your Liberate Unified and Liberate Mobile service.
- 2.9 Liberate is not available to Telstra Wholesale customers or for resale. You must not re-supply the Liberate services to a third party.

3 Liberate Functionality

- 3.1 Liberate Unified is a feature that connects your Underlying Fixed Service and Telstra mobile service that changes the way these services behave natively in the Telstra network.
- 3.2 Liberate Mobile is a feature that changes the way your Telstra mobile service behaves natively in the Telstra network by creating and connecting with a virtual fixed line service.

Liberate Mobile: Allocating and Porting virtual fixed line numbers

- 3.6 Virtual fixed line numbers provided as part of Liberate Mobile are allocated in blocks of contiguous phone numbers ending with the digits “00” through to “99” (or in specific circumstances, “0” through to “9”). In specific circumstances, we may provide single numbers, but this is subject to number audit.
- 3.7 We are able to port blocks of existing fixed line phone numbers for use with Liberate Mobile, subject to technical feasibility and restrictions in the table below:

Porting scenario	Restrictions
Keeping current numbers from a cancelled Telstra service	You can transfer blocks of 100 contiguous numbers. You may be able to transfer blocks of 10 contiguous numbers from a CustomNet service if your existing block has less than 100 contiguous numbers. You may be able to transfer single numbers if you are transferring from a PSTN or ISDN service.
Porting in from another provider	You can port in blocks of 100 contiguous numbers. You may be able to port in blocks of 10 contiguous numbers, or single numbers from specific service types subject to number audit.

Numbers must be ported out in blocks of 100 contiguous numbers. Partial number ranges may be ported out if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the services are re-organised into separate groups before porting; and the fragment to be ported is organised into a block of 100 or more.
Using numbers allocated to an existing TIPT or SIP Connect service	If you have an existing TIPT or SIP Connect service, you may transition these numbers for use with Liberate Mobile as a virtual fixed line number.

3.8 You cannot reduce the size of any block to less than 100 telephone numbers unless we agree otherwise. You can increase or decrease the number of active services within a block.

3.9 We can vary your phone numbers in accordance with any national regulatory policy on numbering.
