Legislative Requirement Paragraph 13 (1) (b) of the Payphone Public Consultation Determination

Public Consultation Document – when Telstra cannot continue to reasonably operate a payphone at the site

- i) Telstra's reasons for the payphone removal proposal including facts upon which the proposal is based.

Why we are proposing to remove this payphone.

Telstra's Response

Telstra is proposing to remove this payphone because it can no longer reasonably operate the service at this location.

The payphone is located at a remote site that is understood to be either abandoned or significantly under-populated, with no current permanent resident population, or where presence is very limited and intermittent. Call data and site observations indicate very limited and infrequent use of the payphone over an extended period.

In order to continue operating the service, Telstra would be required to install new or upgraded connectivity infrastructure. Given the absence of a sustained resident population and the ongoing under-utilisation of the payphone, maintaining the service would represent a disproportionate and unreasonable investment that no longer delivers practical or equitable access to communications services under Telstra's Universal Service Obligation.

On this basis, Telstra considers that it cannot reasonably continue to operate the payphone at this location and is proposing its removal.

- ii) to the extent that it is available, and it is reasonable for Telstra to disclose it, evidence proving those facts

Evidence to prove the facts upon which this proposal is based.

Telstra's Response

- The site is understood to be abandoned or significantly under-populated, with no current permanent resident population or only intermittent presence.
- There are no operating community facilities at the site.
- Call and usage data demonstrate very limited and infrequent use of the payphone over an extended period.
- Existing connectivity at the site is no longer adequate to maintain service, and continued operation would require new or upgraded infrastructure.
- Telstra has assessed continued operation and determined that the required investment is disproportionate to the level of use and ongoing community benefit provided at the site.

- iii) to the extent that it is available, and it is reasonable for Telstra to disclose it, evidence proving those facts

The criterion that applies to this proposed payphone removal
