2 Fleetcoms Service

What is Fleetcoms?

- 2.1 Telstra's Fleetcoms service lets you use UHF or VHF radio units (called mobiles) to make and receive radio-telephone calls to and from other mobiles that you operate within the same fleet.

Service features

- 2.2 You will receive:
- (a) access to the Trunked Land Mobile Radio Service;
  - (b) a fleet number or unique network identification;
  - (c) a mobile number for each individual radio unit made of the fleet number followed by a unique number for the individual radio unit;
  - (d) maintenance of any Telstra plant and equipment relating to Fleetcoms; and

- (e) general service restoration for Fleetcoms during standard business hours (8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday to Friday, excluding public holidays); and
- (f) a 24-hour help desk for the reporting of radio service faults, help inquiries and product information.

2.3 You will be able to:

- (a) transmit voice or data from either a VHF or UHF radio unit simultaneously to other radio units within the same fleet or to other Fleetcoms customers;
- (b) transmit voice or data from either a VHF or UHF radio unit to other communications services (such as Telstra's fixed or mobile services) if you have pre-arranged access; and
- (c) divert calls made to a particular VHF or UHF radio unit under specific cases (eg, when it is unattended); and
- (d) select the coverage area needed for your individual business needs.

2.4 To use the service, your radio equipment must be within radio range of the compatible VHF or UHF Fleetcoms network radio transmitting and receiving stations. You must pre-arrange access to those stations with us.

Coverage

2.5 The coverage available to you is either:

- single or multiple sites;
- region or multiple regions;
- state coverage (all sites); or
- 2 states or national (all sites).

2.6 Coverage within these areas is based on a number of individual base stations strategically located to provide a cell coverage area. Within an area, geography and topography may affect reception.

Limits on your service

2.7 All calls that you make or receive using the Fleetcoms service are of limited duration. We will disconnect all calls three minutes after connection. (You will hear a warning tone ten seconds before disconnection).

3.5 We will measure control channel data calls in the following way:

Status message = 1 data unit

Short data message (up to 25 bytes) = 2.5 data units

Extended data message (26 to 100 bytes) = 10 data units

3.6 When we measure airtime and data usage, we will:

- aggregate airtime and data usage across all mobiles on your account.
- not include voice calls which are less than 6 seconds in airtime usage; and
- measure non-prescribed modem data calls at a minimum of 7 seconds for airtime usage.
